Oh, no! Carey and Crash are very different. Carey is now working as a mental health counselor. She and I are in good touch. Carey was actually very fearful that Crash was going to go off on her in the article because they used to be connected.

Hey! I'm glad you reached out. Would you want to talk to 60 Minutes? They are doing a piece on detransition and are interested in talking to as many detransitioners as possible. If you give me the go ahead, I will introduce you via email.

Hey Lisa,

A quick question?

Isn't Carey Callahan and CrashChaosCats the same person?

Or am I confused about that?

I'm asking in the context of her defecting, lol. And that hilarious Slate article I'm just getting around to reading.
